3: No Documentation Mode: Vu Extended Warranty has a hassle free process to file a service request. All you need to do is call our service center & provide us your registered mobile number or serial number of the television. You don't have to submit any other document.

4: Best Service Mode: Vu devices will be repaired directly by the company personnel and use of genuine Vu spare parts will be integrated in any defective components.

5: 100 % Protection & Repair Mode: Vu will ensure that your device will be repaired and returned to you in a specified amount of time. If repair for the specific TV is not delivered within timeline, Vu ensures to give standby device for your product or give an equivalent TV.

Please Note: No other company or vendor except Vu is authorized to provide extended/additional/maintain support. Any unauthorized third party vendor or warranty support won't be covered under warranty and will be considered invalid.

In case of panel failure where the company has to replace/ repair the TV, but with unauthorized third party vendor doesn't consider full value of the TV. They depreciate the value of the television according to year on year from the date of purchase.

Disadvantages of Extended warranty taken from unauthorized third party.

1. Unavailability of Authentic/Original spares
2. Fake/Refurbished parts that damage other parts
3. No spares stock kept for immediate support
4. Panel is always specific to the model & they are not interchangeable, Leading to TV not getting repaired within a stipulated time
5. No standby Television or equivalent replacement Television being provided.
6. Time taken for repairs can go over 30 days instead of Max 3 days by VU.
7. In case of panel failure where the company has to replace/ repair the TV, but with unauthorized third party vendor doesn't consider full value of the TV. They depreciate the value of the television according to year on year from the date of purchase.
